

Visualize and analyze data

My dog wants to be famous

If you ever suspect your dog's has a bright future career and that he deserves a place at the Dog Hollywood (Dogllywood) but you don't know where to start you might want to see this!

WeRateDogs is a Twitter account that tests your dog's potential to be famous. You just have to send a pic of your dog in his most cute, reflexive or artistic moments and they will give him a score and publish the pic for the people to judge. However, there are a ton of dogs in the same road to the stardom, and if you are wondering how your dog can stand out over all of them we will help you: With data!

Road to Dogllywood

Our team of data scientists did a research and according it, the most frequent scores are between 10/10 and 13/10.

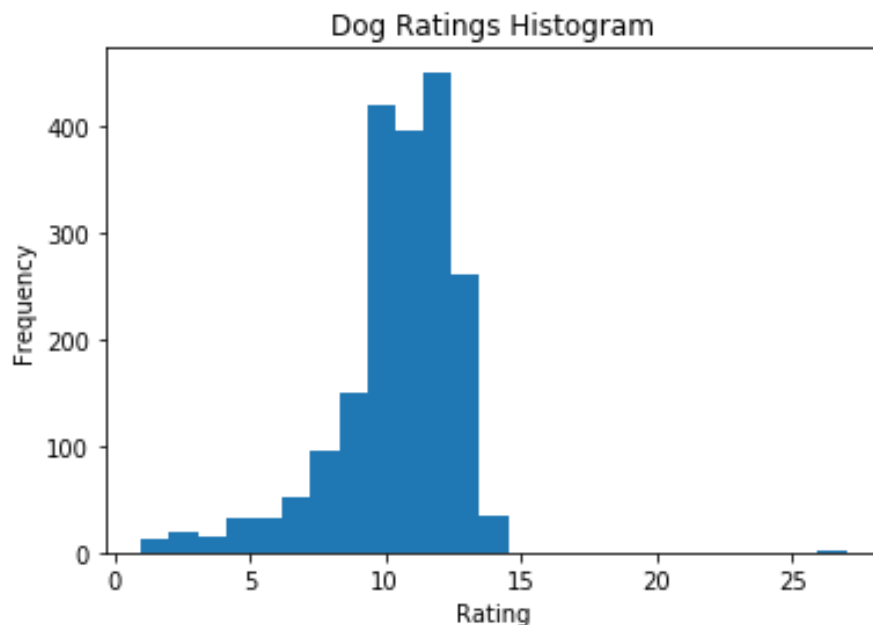

Fig1. Rating score histogram (number is always divided by 10 in the original account)

There are also exceptional cases in which dogs (and dogs) get super high ratings, but being sponsored by America or being snoop dogg is like cheating:

Fig2. Exceptional scores examples.

In any case, if you want to have a bonus for rarity your best bet is to send a floofer pic, as they are quite rare! (if you wonder what is a floofer follow this link)

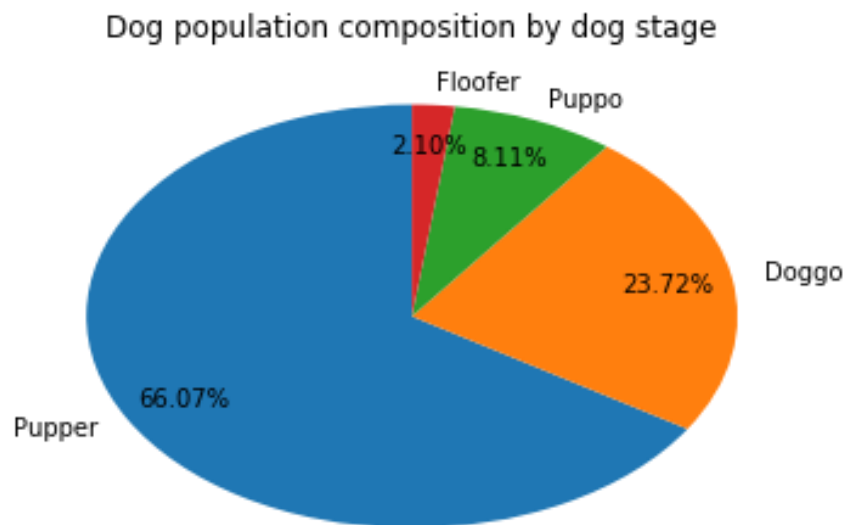

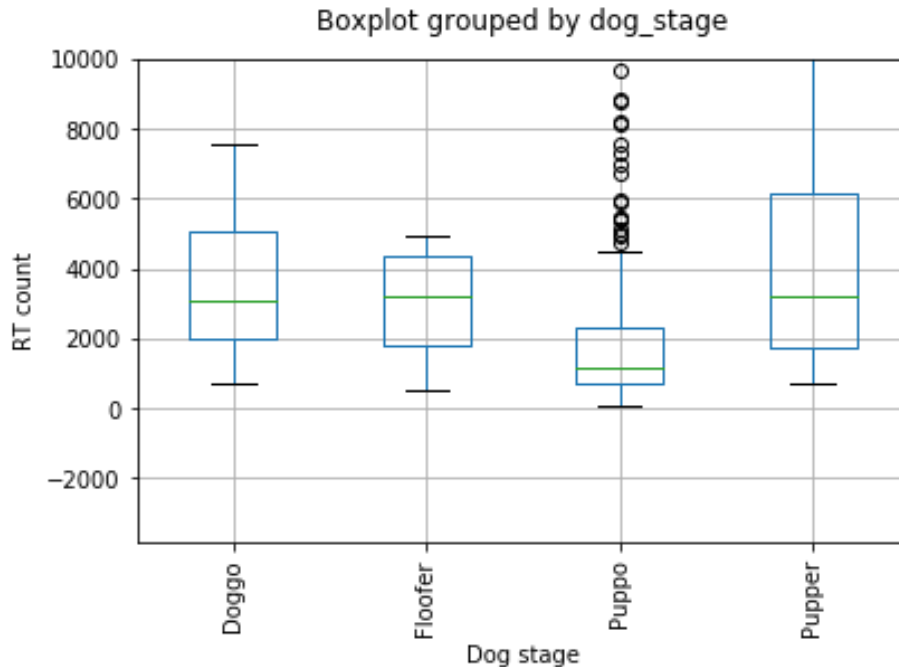

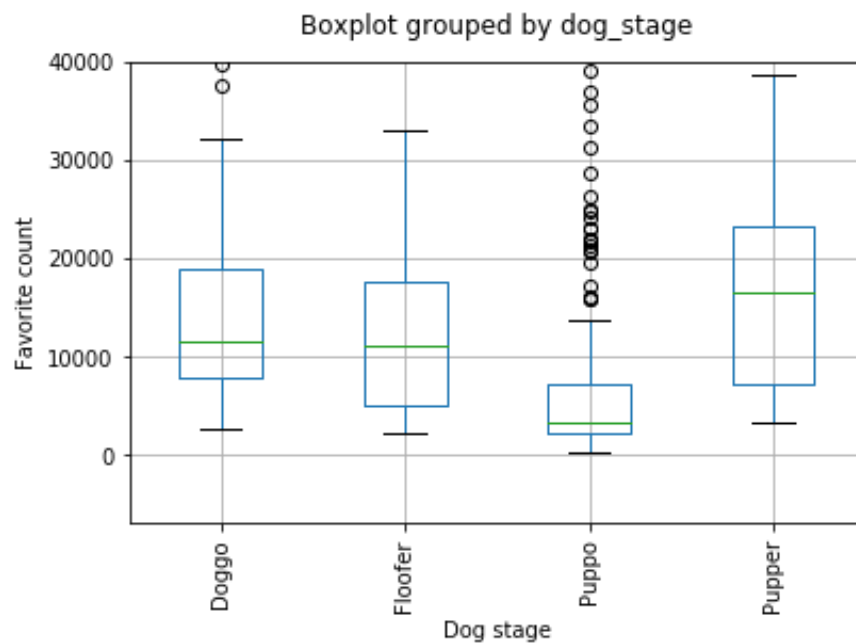

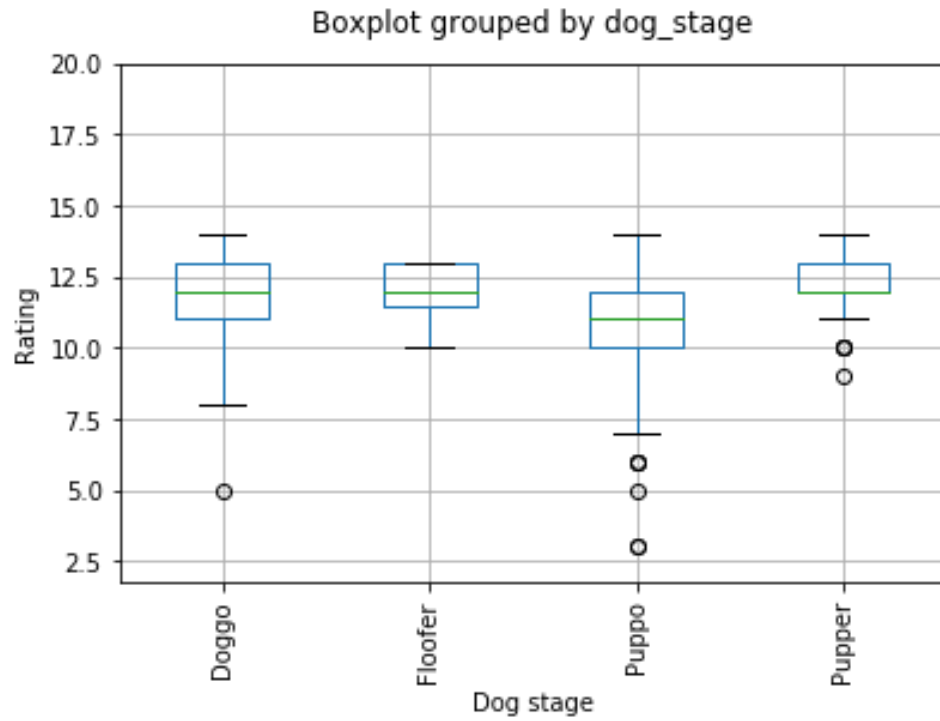

Fig3. Population composition by dog stage

But what do the people say?

Well, according to the following boxplots, Puppies get the less rating and retweets compared to other dog stages, while Puppers get the most Favorites.

Conclusion

Whether your dog wants to be famous or not, the WeRateDogs tweeter account will make you have fun while watching large amounts of cuteness!